1) IMPORTANT INFORMATION

Acceptance of these terms

1.1 You indicate your acceptance of the terms and conditions of this Licence by clicking on the "I accept the terms of this End-User Licence Agreement" button when prompted during installation of this Software and thereafter by running or otherwise using this Software.

1.2 If you do not agree to the terms of this Licence, then you may not use this Software and you must delete the Software from all of your computers, servers, devices and any other storage places.

1.3 This Licence may be offered to you in connection with a 30-day free evaluation of a version of the Software having restricted functionality. If you wish to use this version of the Software for evaluation, then you must indicate your acceptance of the terms and conditions of this Licence in the manner referred to above. If you subsequently wish to acquire the right to use the full functionality of the Software, and agree to pay the applicable licence fee, a licence key will be supplied to you in order to enable such full functionality, or (at our option) we will supply you with a new full functionality version of the Software.

Software updates

1.4 We and/or our commercial partners may provide you with updates and new releases of this Software which may require manual installation by you or which may be delivered over the Internet in such a manner as shall cause the same to install automatically.

1.5 You should install any such new release or updated version of the Software promptly on the same being made available to you and you must then cease use of any previous version of the Software. Unless otherwise stated by us, such new releases or updated versions shall be subject to the terms and conditions of this Licence.

Support and maintenance: scope, and exclusions

1.6 We and/or our commercial partners will provide you with the following support and maintenance services if at the relevant time you have paid the applicable support and maintenance fee:

- e-mail and phone access to UK-based support personnel during normal business hours Monday-Friday (9am-5pm UK time);
- software patches allowing error-correction of the Software if critical issues (being those which restrict or disable the core functionality of the Software, and are the direct cause of system crashes) are experienced;
- major and minor version upgrades, as released by us from time to time; and
- quarterly maintenance updates, as released by us, usually towards the end of a calendar quarter.

1.7 The following exclusions will apply, so that no support and maintenance services are available from us if:

- a fault experienced by you when using the Software is not reproduceable by us;
- a fault experienced by you when using the Software results i) from any unauthorised combination of the Software with third party software or hardware, or ii) from changes by third party software developers to their code which causes un-anticipated incompatibility with the Software;
- if patches, upgrades/new releases or maintenance updates previously supplied by us have not been promptly installed by you; or
- you are in material breach of the terms of this Licence.

1.8 Please note: The Software support and maintenance scope and exceptions set out above may be amended or extended at any time by a Software Support and Maintenance Policy (“Support Policy”) which we will make available via our website at www.powermapper.com. We will use reasonable endeavours to inform you of the location of the Support Policy and any changes to it. If you request on-site support, we will propose separate charges for this, including travel and accommodation expenses.
